

Paul Swope

While graduating with degrees from The University of Pennsylvania and Harvard University, Mr. Swope chose to pursue his real passion: the pro-life cause. He served as Executive Director of Massachusetts Citizens For Life, and then Director of International Expansion for The Caring Foundation, a group that aired pro-life, pro-woman television ads. Writing a landmark article in First Things magazine entitled Abortion: A Failure to Communicate, (<https://www.firstthings.com/article/1998/04/004-abortion-a-failure-to-communicate>) he was invited to give talks on the topic in Canada, Ireland, Italy, Germany, Austria, Kenya, Australia, and throughout the United States.

Following his pro-life work, Mr. Swope has been an active entrepreneur, founding a fundraising company in 1995, a real estate management company in 1996, a website business in 2000, and a retail business in 2001.
